Meals will be the responsibility of attendees.

The ACM designation awarded by MHEI distinguishes community managers who have experience managing manufactured home communities, have successfully completed the ACM program of education, and have committed to upholding the ACM code of ethics. The ACM designation provides the opportunity for community managers to identify themselves as committed professionals, sharpen their community management skills, and advance their careers in community management. Additionally, the classroom-based ACM courses provide networking opportunities with other industry professionals. This is the first of a two-part program. Both courses will need to be completed to achieve the ACM designation. The second session will be held October 23-25, 2023. Registrations for that class will be available following the ACM Course 1 for a separate fee. A PowerPoint course overview is available at www.mmhmembers.org
